Welcome to Freeport High School’s Extracurricular Activities Guide. We strongly encourage all students to participate in afterschool activities. They offer a unique opportunity to meet new friends, be a risktaker, and share and learn new passions while having fun!

There are many benefits to participating in a club or sport. These are just some:

- Improved Academic Performance – Participating in activities you are passionate about can increase your brain function, help you concentrate and manage your time better, all of which contribute to higher grades.

- Explore Interests and Create Broader Perspectives – When you participate in multiple different activities, you’ll get the opportunity to explore a range of interests and unlock passions you never knew you had!

- Social Opportunities – One of the easiest ways to make friends is – you guessed it – through extracurricular activities!

- Essential Life Skills – On top of all of the benefits of extracurricular activities we already talked about, one of the greatest advantages extracurricular activities gives you are real-world skills.

These skills include (but are not limited to):

- Analytical thinking
- Goal setting
- Leadership
- Prioritization
- Problem-solving
- Public speaking
- Teamwork
- Time management

- Résumés – Participation helps you build your résumé.

- University Applications – Colleges want to see very specific things from your extracurricular activities. Make sure your activities include the following to increase your chances of getting in:

  1. Longevity: You stick with one type of activity rather than joining a new activity every week and quitting one every other week.

  2. Passion: You truly care about your extracurricular activities and aren’t doing them just to get into a university.

  3. Leadership: You have taken the initiative to become a leader within your activities and community.

So, get involved and participate in all that Freeport High School has to offer!

One year, the club also sponsored a very successful bake sale involving 35 members. Some of the pies from the sale were donated to the Interfaith Nutrition Network. For many, Vintage functions as a yearbook or an autograph book. It is free to all students and is published during the first week in June. Everyone is welcome to submit work to Vintage and many of the submissions are published. Members of the club who submit writings are responsible for advertising the magazine, collecting work, choosing the selections to be published, editing the material, preparing the layout of the magazine and distributing the final product.

During layout season, membership in Vintage is a daily commitment requiring a substantial number of afterschool and sometimes weekend hours.

Name of Club: WFHS Communications Club
Advisor: Mr. Richard Genzone
Meeting Day: Tuesday
Time: 2:25 p.m.
Location: Room 248
Description of Club:
The vision of WFHS is to build community, a loyal and growing audience, and an engaged and educated citizenry by providing the highest quality of freeform programming. It seeks to broadcast entertainment, music, news, thoughts, sounds, ideas and event listings that support free speech, diversity and the interests of the local communities WFHS serves.

WFHS’ mission is to strengthen and enrich our community by broadcasting programming that is entertaining, innovative, and critical, and by limiting commercial influence while promoting diversity, tolerance and freedom of expression. Student-members will develop writing, verbal, critical thinking and performance skills while becoming active participants in our school community.

Our members produce and broadcast a radio show throughout the week from Tributary Studio on the first floor. During our morning show music is played, students broadcast news and upcoming events, provide sports recaps, read poetry, hold student debates and still have plenty of room for more creativity.

Selected club members read morning announcements to convey important information to students and faculty. Meetings are held on Tuesday after school, with some members reporting before school begins in the morning, depending on their role. During each session, we conceptualize ideas for the upcoming week, but also reflect upon our performance for the week in progress. Our club engages in activities such as raffles, contests, sticker creation and CD compilations.
